Collection of applications for participation in the scientific and practical conference "Strategic Issues of Monetary Policy. Challenges of the New Economic Reality".

February 7, 2023

Collection of applications for the National Bank of Kazakhstan's scientific and practical conference 'Strategic issues of the monetary policy. Challenges of the new economic reality' is underway. The event is to be held in the third decade of April 2023 in Almaty.

The conference program will include presentations and discussions on the following topics:

- Long-term monetary policy strategy:
 - the optimal inflation target for the economy of Kazakhstan
 - optimal characteristics of the inflation target formulation
- Global trends and their impact on inflation processes in Kazakhstan
- The nature of domestic inflation in Kazakhstan and its factors
- Macroeconomic coordination: interaction of monetary, fiscal and macroprudential policies in Kazakhstan

The results of research by the National Bank, international organizations and the academic community on current issues of monetary policy will be presented at the Conference.

The National Bank invites researchers from higher education institutions (the faculty, doctoral and master's programs students) and research centers to participate in the Conference. In case of interest, please submit by March 30, 2023 an application (Appendix 1) with an attached research paper to the e-mail address akerke.kulshanova@nationalbank.kz with a note 'application for participation in conference'.

Both completed and in-progress research papers may be submitted for consideration. Shortlisted candidates selected to present papers at the Conference will be notified.
