PUBLIC INFORMATION NOTICE

The XI Kazakhstan Financial Congress will be held in Almaty

Astana

November 13, 2023

On November 15, 2023, XI Kazakhstan Financial Congress will be held in Almaty. The event is hosted by the Association of Financiers of Kazakhstan with support of the National Bank of Kazakhstan and the Agency of the Republic of Kazakhstan for the Regulation and Development of the Financial Market.

At the plenary sessions of the Congress, heads of foreign central banks and financial institutions, representatives of Kazakh government agencies and financial organizations will discuss priority issues for macroeconomic policy and the financial sector.

In particular, during this year's event the participants will consider the issues of monetary policy in the current conditions, macroeconomic stability and fiscal discipline, as well as the matters of cyber resilience for the financial sector and the role of innovation in the global evolution of financial markets.

It is worth noting that the Kazakhstan Financial Congress will be held in both online and offline formats. The online broadcast of plenary sessions and panel discussions will be available at fincongress.kz website and on the official YouTube channel of the National Bank of Kazakhstan.
